FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New Additions to FACT Consumer Library

EDWARDSVILLE, IL, February 15, 2011 - Vicki Rolens, Managing Director of the Federation of American Consumers (FACT), reports that two important publications have been added to the FACT Consumer Library.

Those publications are "A Consumer's Guide to Mortgage Refinances" and "Twelve Ways to Lower Your Homeowners Insurance Costs."

"In this day and age," says Rolens, "these booklets cover topics which are more important than ever to the average homeowner. We hope members will take advantage and request copies of both publications today."

FACT maintains a free Consumer Library for members, with publications which cover wide-ranging topics. Other titles include "66 Ways to Save Money," "Food Label Closeup," and "Nine Ways to Lower Your Auto Insurance." There are additional booklets on child care, federal programs, health care, travel and how to prepare for a natural disaster.

Publications are free to members for as long as supplies last. The latest booklets -- plus a printout of all listings and an order form -- are available by calling 1-800-USA-FACT or sending an email to cservice@usafact.org.
